Chaminade Teacher & Alumnus Honored

Creve Coeur, MO, February 4, 2008—James M. Zolnowski has made teaching his lifelong passion. He has taught at schools in out-state Missouri and, for the past 29 years at Chaminade College Preparatory School. He is the Director of the Library/Media Center, both the Chaminade Archivist and Sacristan, teaches in the Classical & Modern Languages Department and is involved with the school's resident program. Students never forget "Mr. Z" and continue their contact with him long after graduation day. As a result, the Alumni Association has named him as an Honorary Alumnus.

James C. Kahlmeyer '52 is an active member on the Chaminade Alumni Board of Directors, has responded whenever Chaminade has called, as an outstanding volunteer for phonathons, golf tournaments, and auctions and many other events, he not only spearheaded the organization of several of his class reunions, he helped lead the formation of the Class of '52 academic scholarship and has been a loyal donor to Chaminade. Outside of Chaminade, Mr. Kahlmeyer served the St. Louis community with his charitable work with the Red Cross. Lastly, he has instilled in his family, a passion and dedication to Chaminade with two sons and three grandsons attending Chaminade. Because of his ongoing dedication and loyalty, Jim has been named the Alumnus of the Year for 2008.

Both men were honored at the Father Chaminade Day Liturgy on January 25.

Chaminade College Preparatory School is a Catholic day and resident school for boys, grades 6-12, sponsored by the Marianist Province of the United States. Situated on 55 acres in suburban St. Louis, with 12 buildings. College-credit courses are offered in all major subject areas. Extensive co-curricular activities complement 16 varsity sports.
